HIGH COST TO BAR TELEVISION FROM HOMES, SAYS DR. JEWETT

EXPERT SEES PERFECTED

Bell Telephone Laboratories Head Doubts, Though, if Public Can Afford It

By DAVID P. SENTNER
Copyright, 1930, by International News Service

New York, Feb. 24.—Televisions has been found possible of attainment, although its future is still very much in doubt, Dr. P. B. Jewett, president of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, declared in an interview today.

Dr. Jewett was born in Pasadena, Cal., and is considered one of the foremost authorities on electrical subjects. It was in his laboratories in 1927 that television was demonstrated both by wire from Washington to New York and by radio from an experimental station in New Jersey to New York. It demonstrated the accomplishment of transmitting instantaneous scenes over considerable distance.

Recently apparatus for picturing the scene in approximately natural colors was demonstrated in the laboratories, Dr. Jewett revealed.

But these accomplishments must be considered as belonging to the experimental stage," said Dr. Jewett.

TREMENDOUS BURDEN.

"The question of whether or not, after a period of further development, television will take its place as the telephone and telegraph in the world, will depend on the necessities which will warrant the investment and large necessary expenditure."

For transmission of such television as is now being demonstrated there are present facilities which are equivalent to the best of the present 1000 telephone channels, 30 commercial telephone channels, or to adjust channels for radio channels, Dr. Jewett pointed out.

"The transmission equipment coupled with the inevitable expense of terminal apparatus constitute a very heavy burden on the present system," he said.

Dr. Jewett said that the more complicated and costly than any other form of communication he mentioned.

"Those who look forward to a time when television will replace the stage and screen theater by the home offering of pictures, will have to recognize that television would then have as its competitor the home sound motion picture projector."

UP TO THE PUBLIC.

"For this competition the future television receiver would have to be constructed in such a manner as to be convenient and cost to the home movie machine that the present radio does to the phonograph."

"At present the apparatus and terminal facilities required for this use of television appear appalling, both as to complexity and as to cost."

"The ultimate verdict to the future of television must be left to the public which will decide what it places on the pedestal of sight to sound and whether it is willing to pay the necessary price for simultaneous event and scene which is the essence of television."

However, Dr. Jewett said that his laboratories were continuing television experiments "so that we may be able to provide at any time that it is physically possible and commercially desirable the best means for the electrical communication of scenes."

HOSPITALS ARE VICTIM OF

Providence, Feb. 24. Mrs. R. Daniels, 68, of 24 Court st., one of the 148 patients transferred from St. Joseph's hospital when it was partly destroyed by fire, died today.

Mrs. Daniels, whose name was on the danger list as a result of heart trouble when the fire broke out, passed away in the Rhode Island hospital, where she was transferred.

While hospital officials would not say that the transfer of the woman was the cause of her death, they declared it did not help her condition.

In response to an appeal from Mayor Dunne, funds being rolled in today to rebuild St. Joseph's hospital.

Up to noon more than $2000 had been received in answer to the mayor's request for funds made to citizens of Rhode Island.

Blasphemy William A. Hickey, who publicly thanked Mayor Dunne for his suggestion, said it "will probably be tomorrow before a definite estimate of the damage could be obtained. He said he believed $200,000 would be needed.

The patients removed numbered 122 adults, 11 children and 14 new born babies.

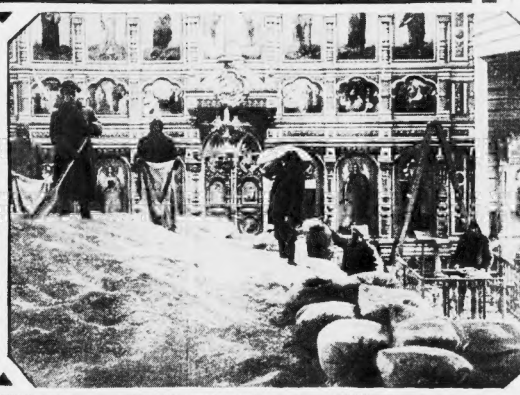

Numerous tales of heroism have been recorded and the nuns and nurses were lauded by firemen and police for their calmness and rescue work.

The maternity ward was the first cleared by the nuns and nurses, and the ward was cleared of 21 patients, including 19 nuns, in the maternity room, part of the gutting which was in no danger.

TO WED LEANA, SAYS COUNT

London, Feb. 24 (AP).—A Cannes dispatch to the London Daily Mail today quoted Count Alexander von Hochberg as saying stories from the East, Andrew J. (Boss) Galle, conventional mayor of Newburyport, Mass., ran into temporary disappointment today.

When he arrived by boat at San Francisco it was raining, there was a thick fog and he was unable to meet him at the dock and the expected rain of drizzle and cold headed business seeking to become his wife failed to materialize.

The clerk redoubled his boy and called on him.

"Bossy" landed wearing a green shirt with silk stripes, a fat-topped felt hat pulled rakishly over one eye, navy suit and top coat and a broad grin.

He said that while he is here he will be a job a dozen years ago at Mare Island.

"Bossy" said he was frankly surprised in local wife, in California seeking some lucky beauty to become his wife.

Flonides are barred because they are sloppy housewives, according to the red-headed job who governs the destinies of the Massachusetts.

As Galle steamed up toward the Golden Gate the boards of Francis' trustees and red heads beat a hot footer, for who could tell but what she might be the best.

If the intrepid Italian had any from the East, is unsuccessful in San Francisco he plans, as a last resort, to go to Hollywood and look the ladies over in the film colony.

It is possible that he may be in a take-and if he does, it will be a talker.

Stonks' counsel are seeking a writ of certiorari which, if granted, would mean a review of the case by the highest court in the land.

If denied, it would mean the attorney for the college professor would have to turn as a last resort to the State of Ohio to save their client from the death chair.

'Bossy' Lands in Rain at San Francisco

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—The romance quest of that sturdy son of the East, Andrew J. (Boss) Galle, conventional mayor of Newburyport, Mass., ran into temporary disappointment today.

HOOPER SCHOOL IN HILLS GETS 'EM EARLY

Chilmark, Va., Feb. 23.—A school bell rang in Dark Hollow today for the first time in 32 years. It had called up the mountain side a picturesque band of 13 young children, aged from six to 20. They were going to school to read and write.

Something like the scene of the early morning in the hills of Chilmark, Va., is a picture of the young mountaineers, gathered in the school building, to receive their daily lesson. Chilmark is a mountain settlement in the hills of the mountains. It is a town of 100 people, and is the only one of its kind in the state.

POISONER OF 9 TELLS HOW HE KILLED GAW

New York, Feb. 23 (AP).—Apparently supporting the prominence of the position on a platform before 20 detectives in the lineup at police headquarters, James Baker today told how he poisoned Henry Gaw, watchman at the Cullen Hotel.

Baker was brought here on a charge of killing Gaw after a fight in Detroit, according to the police, that he had poisoned him.

One of Baker's alleged victims has been reported after difficulty has been encountered in obtaining details of other murders. He is said to have admitted.

Today the prisoner gave evidence with the form of Deputy Chief Inspector Edward P. Mulrooney who questioned him, seemed to indicate doubt as to whether he killed Gaw.

BOASTS OF MURDERS. Did you give Gaw any coffee? asked Mulrooney. The killer has confessed he first tried to poison the watchman with cyanide in coffee.

"Yes," replied Baker. "I gave him coffee." "Sure enough?" "Of course." "Did you know it was cyanide?" "Certainly." Baker's tone was indignant. "Make him drink it!" "Sure I did."

130 Ill After Eating at 'Sally' Banquet

San Francisco, Feb. 21 (AP).—Poisoned by food served at a banquet given by the Central Emergency Hospital here, nearly 130 persons, most of them children, were recovering, with few exceptions, today as authorities began a thorough investigation to determine the cause of the mass tragedy.

While there were no deaths reported, at least a dozen sufferers were in a serious condition at the San Francisco Hospital. Among them was Col. A. W. Crawford, second in command of the United States Cavalry of the Salvation Army and father of Richard Crawford, killed in action at the battle of Iloilo.

City health officers began an investigation in an effort to determine the cause of the poisoning. Hospital physicians said the symptoms indicated that of botulism poisoning.

More than 50 persons attended the banquet as delegates to the annual United Peoples conference of the Golden Gate division of the Salvation Army. The menu included cold and chicken completely pre-

Accused Teller Released on Bail

Lawrence A. Arthur, 25, of Saratoga st., East Boston, in East Boston court today was arraigned on four charges of larceny, totaling $2,000, from the East Boston branch of the Federal Reserve Bank, of which he was a teller.

Inspector John A. Dorsey, who brought the case into court, said the amount stolen from the bank will eventually be found to be $2,000.

Arthur pleaded not guilty, and by agreement of the court, bail was set at $10,000 for Arthur and $5,000 for his brother, Henry A. Arthur, also charged.

MISS NORMAND MET DEATH WITH SMILE

Morocco, Feb. 23.—Miss Normand is dead.

The film icon comedienne went into the fade-out as she entered the prelude—singing. Her private secretary and closest friend, Mrs. Julia Benson, who was with her until the last, told how the girl who made millions in the face of the death of the picture, in those moments before a scene.

“A few minutes before the scene,” Mrs. Benson said, “Miss Normand turned over, took a hand and asked me to play with her. I did as she requested and as I bent over and whispered into her ear she smiled and closed her eyes as if to go to sleep. A moment later death came.”

The little dark-eyed girl, whose gaiety rejoiced the hearts of millions, and whose own life was blessed by tragedy, thus lost her long and gallant fight against the White Plague.

Of the thousands of friends who bailed her as a comrade in the days of her wealth and fame, not one was present when the end came.

There were no relatives at her deathbed. Staff members and nurses were the only ones who watched her final parting “fade-out” into the unknown.

IN TWO SCANDALS
The end came suddenly after hope had been extended that the young star would live.

Two films were held in suspense, pending the arrival of the star's mother and sister, who left New York by airplane after being notified of her death.

The laughter-loving girl, who was only 32, had been the outstanding victim of tragedy in the film world. Twice she was the key figure of national sensation.

Twice she was fated, through no fault of her own, to be involved in events which undermined her work.

Her career began in 1914 when she was the ill-fated “Patty” Arkuckle in the ranking comedy team of the entire industry. She still remains the most popular and beloved member of the film world.

Then William Desmond Taylor, his director, who was married to her, and the ill-fated “Patty” Arkuckle were the ranking comedy team of the entire industry. She still remains the most popular and beloved member of the film world.

Mabel Normand began her career as an actress and comedian, and entered the film as an extra. In two years she had become a star of world renown.

HOLIDAY BOOM HITS HUB AIRPORT

When the ground crew came in to bring us home, a swarm of commercial airline companies operating at Boston Municipal Airport and within the city limits for a good year was bright.

Then the full moon which was seen on the day of the moon, we were told, was the first time since the war that the moon was seen so clearly in the sky. It was a beautiful sight, and we were all very happy to see it.

Spring is just opening, and we are all very happy to see it. The weather is just what we need, and we are all very happy to see it. The weather is just what we need, and we are all very happy to see it.

LETTERS FROM OUR READERS

Wife Who Revered
the Order of Things

Editor Boston American:

A wife living in New York has publicly advertised in the papers that as her husband has left her home, she will no longer be responsible for his debts. From this we assume that she supported him. Very well. She has given the husband a dose of his own medicine. We often read of a husband doing this left hand trick with his wife, but now that wives are coming into their own this is the first instance on record of a wife publicly making this announcement.

Concert Patron
Condemns Smokers

Editor Boston American:

Is there not some way that the management of Symphony Hall can be compelled to stop the nuisance of cigarette smoking in the corridors at the intermissions of the Saturday evening concerts? It has grown to be dangerous, as well as an intolerable nuisance. It is impossible to walk in the corridors without a lighted cigarette pushed into one's face and eyes, and in the case of women wearing chiffon dresses or light scarfs, setting them on fire.

I have been a subscription shareholder for many years, and in my efforts to push through the crowd of smokers have had many dresses damaged. Women are the worst offenders, young and middle-aged.

They are rude in manner and disgusting to look at. They think they are "smart." In the opinion of many they are very dull.

The same class used to elevate their shoulders and looms when they saw an old woman sucking the pipe and taking comfort out of it, in the back kitchens they sit, then, forebears were brought up in and say (after they got away from them) how hideously vulgar!

The management of Symphony Hall should corral the smokers in one spot, and keep them there. The men are pretty decent, and don't take the liberties the women and their callow "help-trains" do. Many people who are big subscription shareholders are forced to loiter in those stinking, intolerable and smoky and cold, from the smoke drifting in and filling the hall. Their comfort and pleasure is ruined and their clothes soaked with sweat, they don't like. Too polite and well-bred to protest, they suffer in silence.

Tunnel Delay Hit
By Property Owner

Editor Boston American:

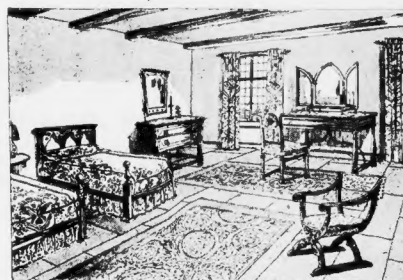

The time has come when some definite action should be taken concerning the East Boston tunnel. We have waited for months for a real decision. At first a plan was approved by ex-Mayor

Nichols. Authorized men were sent to the various properties included in the plan, and gathered necessary information. They advised the people not to make any repairs or alterations because the city would not pay for them if they took over the property. Thus the political controversy began. The plan was at the time discarded.

Several other plans were drawn. For weeks they were surveying and measuring on these plots. They went through the same operation of gathering information. During the last days of Nichols' administration he decided on a plan and it was thought at the time to be a final action. But now Mayor Curley has taken the building of a bridge in question.

Now we the property owners, beg of Mayor Curley to make a final decision soon, because we are the ones that are suffering, for tenants are moving out, fearing that they will have to later. We cannot make any repairs or alterations knowing that the city will not pay for them if they take the property. Store tenants cannot extend their business without the same fear. We are and will be "in the air" until this is over.

It would be a bad idea if the men authorized to build the tunnel would get together, with the idea of settling this affair without any further stalling. Build a tunnel, bridge, or nothing at all, but for the land's sake get it over with.

PAINE'S CLEARANCE

8 PIECES WALNUT FINISH $800

An Early Italian design of Umbrianism. The antique effect is simulated by "dist" finish, crumpled rails and looking iron hardware. Consists of twin beds, bureau and mirror, chiffonier, dressing table and mirror and nightstand. Chairs are extra. With full size bed (no stand). $749.

THIS clearance enables anyone to enjoy now, without waiting, things desired for the home, in many cases to save half what you would ordinarily spend, or to get twice as much for your money. It offers the widest selection of dependable furniture in six States, most of it not elsewhere available in Boston. And due to large scale operating, we believe many of the trades cannot be duplicated anywhere in America. But time is short and the most tempting buys are one-of-a-kind. So the earlier you come the more you save.

San Francisco, Feb. 24.—Newspaper men are all about the great International Dope Ring—real news—at last. It is a story that is being told in the "talk," this business of the dope ring after all.

It wasn't just a newspaper story. This business has been going on for years and has been the cause of much trouble and loss to the country. It is a story that is being told in the "talk," this business of the dope ring after all.

A plot that reached around the world from one great city to another, and from every great city out into the country towns, out into the open air and down the river of smuggled goods, out to lonely farms and into the fishing boats in the northern waters—Marijuana, opium, cocaine, and other drugs for the girls in the night clubs, and for the girls in the dance halls, and for the girls in the great cities. Oh yes, the dope ring is hunting for them, night and day—why not? There is money in it.

And what is human misery, and human disgrace, and human despair, when there is money in it for the dope ring?

NET SPIN FOR ALL
Morphine straight for the woman with pain, straight for the woman who goes to "parties" and must have something to make her sleep when she gets home.

Cocaine for the ladies who feel themselves slipping and want to make a showing in court, cocaine for the woman who has a difficult examination to pass and wants to whip her tired brain to a semblance of energy.

High and low, rich and poor, the net is spread for them.

Why not, with 100 tons of dope "legitimately" manufactured every year—100 tons must you say? And three tons of morphine will take care of every case of pain in the legitimate world of medicine today.

What becomes of those other 97 tons?

Yet the books of those perfectly respectable factories show, by reliable figures, the amount of that missing 97 tons—and when you are thinking about it, remember what a ton of morphine means. The quarter of a grain is all that a competent physician will permit himself to give his patient at one time, and that patient must be in desperate need of help, not get even that much from any honest doctor.

2000 DOCTORS CONVICTED

There are 2000 doctors in the United States who have been already convicted of breaking the narcotic laws.

They are most of them dope addicts themselves, and they have most of them helped make dope addicts by selling prescriptions—their names are now before Congress with a head for figures to calculate that for you.

That's all you'll need.

What becomes of those 97 tons? Do the owners of the dope factories spend time and money and energy and brains to make all this deadly poison and then take a suit on a yacht and get it overboard poured by pour just for the new summer—marjanna—at all.

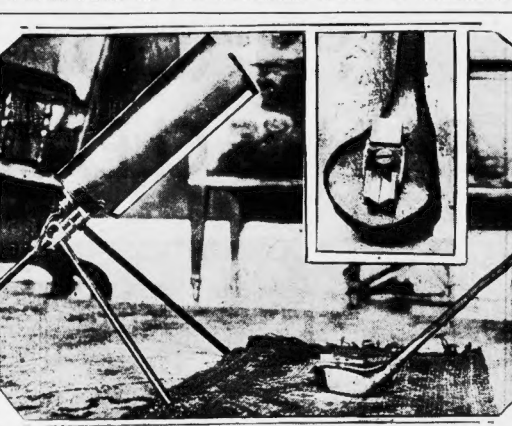

That's another story—a terrible story with a strange beginning and a fearful ending.

Let us get on for another day—just think about the 97 tons of dope "legitimately" manufactured in fine fourishing, respectable, well-to-do factories—and try to imagine what becomes of it.

Who sells it? Who uses it?—Is it you, world, and mine? Don't be emotional about it—don't be excited.

Just do a little plain figuring—figure, you know, never lie.

First Aid to Ambitious Club Wielders

This clever device was invented by Sir James Henderson of London, Eng., to aid golfers to "hit 'em square." The device consists of two mirrors attached to the head of the driver. If the swing be true the mirrors will reflect simultaneously the light of the lamp (at the left). If the swing be incorrect only one of the mirrors will reflect. Inset is closeup of the mirrors on the club's head. (International Newsweek photo.)

Most Failures Found Easily Preventable

New Haven, Feb. 24 (AP)—The results of a survey which is in progress in the bankruptcy court in New Jersey under the auspices of the Department of Commerce, the Yale law school, the Yale institute of human relations and Judge William Clark of the district of New Jersey have been submitted to Secretary Lamont.

The survey is being made to determine the economic and human causes of bankruptcy.

An investigation of a specific number of bankrupt individuals and businesses, the report says, has proved that the application of the most really understood standards of personal and business conduct would have prevented 75 per cent of the failures.

The aim of the survey, the report says, is to make the causes of bankruptcy "so universally known that a different story

PROFESSOR OUT RAPS 'NARROW MINDED'

Columbia, Mo., Feb. 24 (AP)—

Continuing interference by the administration of the University of Missouri in freedom of teaching and research, James Harvey Rogers, professor of economics at the university, today announced his resignation in a letter to President Brooks and the board of curators.

Prof. Rogers will accept appointment at Yale University, his former administrative position at the University of Missouri is now declared to be the scientific world to no longer an institution where scholars may do and work with the assurance of the freedom in teaching and research granted in the ranking universities of the country, so great is the cost of uninformed and prejudiced interference.

In his letter to the board, Prof. Rogers said: "Recent most tragic happenings at this university have shaken the confidence of many of its sincerest friends. In spite of its long record of complete freedom from interference, scrupulously guarded by former administrations, the University of Missouri is now declared to be the scientific world to no longer an institution where scholars may do and work with the assurance of the freedom in teaching and research granted in the ranking universities of the country, so great is the cost of uninformed and prejudiced interference."

Active in support of Prof. Max Meyer in the recent sex questionable investigation of Missouri University, Prof. Rogers, reference to recent most tragic happenings at the university, are taken here to indicate the suspension of Mr. Meyer and the dismissal of Prof. Hoffman by the board of curators after an investigation.

Why there is an EDISON SHOP in your community

THERE are thirty-two Edison Shops, or district offices, in community centers throughout the territory we serve. Your local shop has been carefully located in order that it may be most convenient for you and your neighbors. At this Shop you may obtain new fuses and lamps in exchange for those worn out in service, pay bills, purchase or arrange for the repair of appliances—in fact, obtain the same services for which you would ordinarily visit our Boston Office.

If you are moving from one house to another, details of the change may be handled at the local Edison Shop. Our representatives in each Shop are interested, not only in caring promptly for your routine requests, but also in taking a personal interest to see that you obtain every enjoyment from your electric service. They are in your community to help you—to make your dealings with the Company pleasant—to give you as courteous, prompt attention as you expect from your favorite department store.

Of course, if you prefer to visit our Boston Office we are glad to have you do so—but we want you to know that our Shop in your community is placed there for your convenience—to make our service to you more helpful in every way.

Pork Chops Recipe With Wonderful Sauce

Boston, Mass., Feb. 20.—The pork chop was first introduced into this country by the British. It was at first a very unpopular article of food, but it has since become one of the most popular. The first recipe for pork chops was published in the Boston American in 1850. It was a simple recipe, and it was very popular. The recipe was as follows: Take one pound of pork chops, cut them into four pieces, and fry them in a frying pan for ten minutes. Then drain and add a sauce made of one cup of water, one cup of vinegar, and one cup of sugar. Boil for ten minutes and serve hot.

Another New England pork chop recipe was published in the Boston American in 1860. It was a more elaborate recipe, and it was also very popular. The recipe was as follows: Take one pound of pork chops, cut them into four pieces, and fry them in a frying pan for ten minutes. Then drain and add a sauce made of one cup of water, one cup of vinegar, and one cup of sugar. Boil for ten minutes and serve hot.

Mrs. Lawrence Panaro of Haverhill has created an Ice Roll that is more than a prize winner. There is simplicity in making, speed in baking, and long-keeping qualities, too.

Flour Question Answered by Martha Lee

What is the best flour for baking? This is a question that has been asked many times. The answer is: It depends on the type of bread you are making. For soft breads, such as white bread, you should use a soft flour. For hard breads, such as rye bread, you should use a hard flour. For cakes and pastries, you should use a cake flour. For all other breads, you should use a medium flour.

New Recipes for Electric Refrigerator Dishes

The electric refrigerator has revolutionized the way we cook. It has made it possible to prepare dishes that were previously impossible. Here are some new recipes for electric refrigerator dishes:

- Electric Refrigerator Salad: Take one cup of lettuce, one cup of tomatoes, and one cup of cucumbers. Cut them into small pieces and mix together. Add one cup of dressing and serve cold.
- Electric Refrigerator Pie: Take one cup of apples, one cup of sugar, and one cup of flour. Mix together and bake in a pie crust for ten minutes. Serve hot.
- Electric Refrigerator Cake: Take one cup of flour, one cup of sugar, and one cup of butter. Mix together and bake in a cake pan for ten minutes. Serve hot.

Codfish on Half Shell Becomes Popular

With a bit of especially good weather, the codfish on half shell has become a popular dish. It is a simple recipe, and it is very popular. The recipe is as follows: Take one pound of codfish, cut it into four pieces, and fry it in a frying pan for ten minutes. Then drain and add a sauce made of one cup of water, one cup of vinegar, and one cup of sugar. Boil for ten minutes and serve hot.

From Watch Tower $5 Ice Box Rolls Prize

Mrs. Lawrence Panaro of Haverhill has won a $5 prize for her ice box rolls. The rolls are made of a special recipe, and they are very popular. The recipe is as follows: Take one cup of flour, one cup of sugar, and one cup of butter. Mix together and bake in a roll pan for ten minutes. Serve hot.

One-State Plants, Trees

May we suggest to His Excellency that a combination of the Forestry Association's tercentenary program with New York's municipal forest development would provide jobs for many more.

Town Makes a Day of It

His professional life began at once and has continued ever since. For fifty years, he has been Troy's favorite doctor; for most of that time, her only one. No one knows how many miles he has covered or how many horses he has worn out. No "new" citizen has come to town without his assistance. He has served on the school committee, for more than forty years has been the town clerk and once—when he could get a younger man to "cover" for him—went to the Legislature.

Troy, justly proud of its old family doctor, one of the "general practitioners" who have almost disappeared from the big cities and are not too numerous anywhere, made a day of Dr. Stone's jubilee. In the afternoon, the children of the school, filled the Town Hall in his honor. Older people assembled in the evening, put on a drama, "The Lady to Call," and presented the honored guest with $500 in gold! There was a chorus of 200.

Troy, manifestly, is an appreciative town, a neighborly place. To devote your life to the service of such a community may be profitable in a way that will never occupy the time of an assessor or tax-collector.
